

Making the Table Safe

THE CHALLENGE

Schedule ONE money meeting. Invite with: "I set up a quick money check-in for Sunday — nothing's wrong, I just want us on the same page. Twenty minutes, I'll bring the snacks."

Our (or my future) Money Meeting — day & time _____

Our agenda

1. One win 2. The numbers 3. Anything coming 4. One fear + one dream (each) 5. Adjust one thing, together

Each person's Joy Money (no questions, no reviews) $ _____

The money conversation I'm most afraid to have (usually smaller out loud than in the dark)

One money fear I've never said out loud

One money dream I've never said out loud

If teaching a young person — their three jars: Spend % / Save % (for:) / Give %

The money lesson I most want to pass on (that no one taught me)

Today's Win

- ☐ I scheduled a money meeting (or planned my first).
- ☐ I named one fear and one dream.
- ☐ I set up Joy Money for each person.
- ☐ I included (or planned to include) a young person.
- ☐ I finished Chapter Eleven.

VICTORIA'S TRUTH

The kitchen table is the safest room in the house.
